Many cultural organizations, musicians, artists, historians, and performers will come together to bring out the best of their traditions and history.

For this festival, we request, if possible, that all booths/exhibitors/vendors provide an interactive game or hands-on activity for the attending youth and families. You may consider games or exhibits that feature a multicultural theme or arts and crafts, community awareness of your organization or a historical cultural experience. Be creative! This is your time to meet the youth and families in your community and showcase your organization, outreach programs and products.

Sales are allowed upon product description and price list submitted to Cultura Communications.
